The dividend will be paid on 27th October with book closure set for September 15th, 2023. The payout stood at 44.1% compared to the dividend policy of 70% payout. The reservation was due to review of the balance sheet, need to maintain key ratios and review of the unstable macroeconomic environment.

This week we expect payment in NSE Plc, Total Kenya Plc and Nation Media Limited. We expect a calm market after the fray in Safaricom as institutional managers continue to stay out of the market.

Yield Curve

The yield curve continues with repricing as the long end saw an upward shift as short end edged upwards. The 5-year key rated was down 1.3bps.

We expect the yield curve to edge upwards with the shift coming from tight liquidity, rising short end rates and the August primary pricing which is expected to push yields towards the 18.0% levels.

Currency

The Kenyan shilling weakened further in the week shedding 0.4% week on week from KES 141.77 to KES 142.30 per US dollar. This followed the global strengthening of US dollar against major currencies as evidenced by the gaining of the dollar index from 100.80 to 101.40 points.

We forecast pressure to remain on the local shilling even as the dollar demand is set to rise upon the petroleum oil payments due in the next two months.

Forex reserves declined in the week from USD 7,885Mn to USD 7,377Mn on what we attribute to euro-bond coupon payments due for July 2023.

Globally, the US dollar strengthened after the release of a better than expected US economic data for the second quarter of 2023 that signalled of a continued interest rate hike by the Federal reserve.
