With an EPS of Kes. 8.54 per share (EPS in H1 2024, Kes. 3.16), the board of directors declared an interim dividend payment of Kes. 2.5 per share. The increased demand for the company's medical and industrial gases assures investors of stable company performance during the second half of 2025. We recommend a BUY on BOC Kenya Plc stock for long term and dividend prospects.
- Top tier-one banks released their H1 2025 financial results within the last two weeks with each reporting a drop in foreign exchange earnings. Cumulatively, the eight listed tier-one banks' foreign exchange earnings declined by39.84% from Kes. 36.90Bn in H1 2024 to Kes. 22.20Bn in H1 2025. Narrowing down to selected banks, KCB Group, Co-operative Bank, and Equity Group had their foreign exchange earnings drop by 48.00%, 41.60%, and 21.10% respectively during the first half of 2025. This was contributed by the stabilization of the dollar exchange rate and a significant improvement in the dollar supply that reduced the margin between buying and selling prices quoted by commercial banks and forex bureaus. The currency exchange fluctuations and hiccups partly caused by a dysfunctional interbank market and were resolved at the end of the second quarter in 2024.
